

GIFTING STRATEGIES WITH 529 PLANS

The gift that keeps on giving

Parents and relatives can benefit from two advanced gifting strategies available only with 529 plans: annual gifting and accelerated gifting.

- Annual gifting allows an annual gift tax exclusion of up to $14,000 per recipient for individuals and $28,000 for married couples.
- Accelerated gifting allows a one-time gift to a 529 plan of up to $70,000 per recipient for individuals or $140,000 for married couples, to be contributed and prorated over five years — without incurring federal gift tax or using the donor’s lifetime gift tax exclusion.

With a 529 plan, the account owner also maintains control of the account assets, even though contributions are considered completed gifts and are excluded from the account owner’s taxable estate. Please note that the donor must survive to the fifth calendar year after the contribution, or a prorated amount will be included in their estate.

Giftgiving 101

Meet the Johnston family. They hope their only child, Matt, will attend university when he graduates high school. They made modest contributions to a 529 plan for him in prior years but know they need to do more to meet their savings goal to ensure that Matt has enough resources to choose any school that accepts him. At the end of 2017, Mr. Johnston earns a large bonus, and he and his wife want to contribute $28,000 of it to Matt. In a 529 plan, they can do this without any gift tax liability.

Year	Total gift = $28,000	Annual gift tax exclusion
2017	Gifting year	$28,000

Advanced gifting

Matt’s grandparents are comfortably retired and in a position to make meaningful contributions to a college savings plan for their grandson. To maximize the five-year forward gifting provision and the special gift tax exclusions available with 529 plans, they contribute $28,000 at the end of 2017, and in 2018 they contribute $140,000 as a gift and elect to prorate over five years. Taking these steps effectively removes $168,000 from their combined taxable estate without incurring any federal gift tax or using their lifetime gift tax exclusions.

Year	Grandparents’ gift = $168,000	Year-by-year gift tax exclusion
2017	$28,000	$28,000
2018	Gifting year $140,000	$28,000
2019	Gifting year +1	$28,000
2020	Gifting year +2	$28,000
2021	Gifting year +3	$28,000
2022	Gifting year +4	$28,000

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

In the example to the right, Matt’s parents avoid incurring federal gift tax in 2017 by staying within the $28,000 annual gift tax exclusion for married couples. To do this, the Johnstons must:

- File IRS Form 709, the United States Gift (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, which is used to elect gift-splitting between married couples.

Over two years, Matt receives $196,000 toward his future education without his parents or grandparents incurring federal gift tax consequences. To avoid gift tax consequences:

- His parents and grandparents cannot gift to Matt, in a 529 plan or otherwise, more than $28,000 in any single calendar year (unless the exclusion amount increases).

Accelerated gifting

- 529 accounts can be opened for as many beneficiaries as you wish. For example, Matt's neighbors have five kids. Suppose the children's maternal grandparents want to contribute to college savings accounts for each of their five grandchildren: ages 8, 6, 4, 3 and 1. They can open five 529 accounts and then take advantage of accelerated annual gifting to maximize the amount contributed to each child and reduce their total taxable estate by $700,000.
